21 Israeli Companies to Take Part in Israel Innovation Authority's Israel Pavilion at World's Leading Biotech Conference – the BIO International Convention in San Diego

The BIO International Convention is the World's Largest Conference in the Field of Life Sciences, Showcasing the World's Leading Companies and Developments in the Fields of Medical Technology and Life Sciences. An Israeli National Pavilion at the Event will Feature 21 Leading Companies, Selected by the Israel Innovation Authority with the Support of the Israel Advanced Technology Industries (IATI).

Jerusalem, June 13th, 2017 – The International Biotech Conference, held in San Diego, is the world's largest and most prestigious biotechnology event, with more than 16,000 people from over 76 countries participating. The conference hosts heads of state, ministers, ambassadors and heads of regulatory agencies. The keynote speaker will be David Cameron, British prime minister from 2010 to 2016.

At the conference, companies and professionals will share ideas, experiences, insights, and best practices on all matters regarding innovations in biotechnology.

The Israel Innovation Authority has been participating in the BIO International Convention for 20 years. During the last eight years, it has spearheaded Israel's national pavilion. This year, Israel will be represented by 21 leading companies, carefully selected by The Authority. These companies represent Israeli innovation in a variety of life science fields.

Israel Shamay, the Israel Innovation Authority's Head of the Americas Operations, said, "The BIO International Convention is an important platform and excellent opportunity to showcase Israel's innovation industry in the health sector. Companies that have participated in this conference in the past later have closed important deals, raised funding, and forged ties with strategic partners as a result of the meetings held here."

Aharon Aharon, CEO of the Israel Innovation Authority, said: "The conference is an opportunity for Israeli companies to present their latest developments and create scientific and economic ties with leading international players in the field. The Israel Innovation
